58 Feared Lost As Two Planes Crash In Turkey

Accuses Doctor's Mistress

Jailbird Says He Was Hired to Kill

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A jailbird on furlough says the first smile he ever saw on Carole Tregoff's pretty face came when he falsely told her he had killed her lover's wife.

Jack Cody, 29, a pasty-faced prisoner from the Minneapolis workhouse, electrified the courtroom Tuesday by:

Quoting Carole, "You can back out of this Jack, if you want, but if you don't kill her, Dr. Finch will. And if he won't, I'll do it."

Quoting Dr. R. Bernard Finch, "Before you kill her, tell her the bullet came from Bernie." Bernie is Finch's nickname.

Finch, 42, rich West Covina surgeon and Miss Tregoff, 23, his red-haired mistress and former receptionist, are charged with the gunshot murder of Barbara Jean Finch, 36, last July 18.

Suave and smooth-talking, pictured by a previous witness as a shady character and self-described ladies' man, Cody testified Miss Tregoff had hired him on the installment plan to do away with Mrs. Finch last July 4.

The full price, he said, was to be $1,400.

"I took the $330 down payment," Cody testified, "but I never intended to go through with it. But I told her I did."

He said the negotiations took place in Las Vegas, Nev.

His false tale of killing brought the first smile he had seen on Carole's face, he said.

Carole's alleged happiness turned to nervousness in following days, Cody said, when he made it look as if he had killed the wrong woman.

"When I first met Dr. Finch on July 7," Cody continued, "I told him how I had killed his wife with a shot in the chest with a shotgun."

But Finch, the witness said, told him that he had since talked with his "very much alive" wife.

"I said," Cody testified, " 'If I killed the wrong woman, I'll go back and do it right!

"I agreed to go back and kill her and then he told me to let her know — that when I shot her to say: 'This is from Bernie.' "

Cody has been doing time in Minneapolis on a bad check charge. He was brought here handcuffs to testify for the prosecution.

Storm Water Taxes Sewers

Complaints Heard By City Council

The city's sewers are taking on an excess amount of storm water, according to Aubrey Hayes, superintendent of sewage and water.

Mr. Hayes said his annual reports show that the city processed some 745,900,000 gallons of sewage during 1959 which is not a figure commensurate with the amount of water used.

He noted the rainfall last year amounted to 47.19 inches. It rained 130 days, he said, for an average of .36 of an inch per day.

He noted that the average high temperature in the city during 1959 was 55 degrees and the low 33 degrees.

He also called attention to the reduced complains of flooded basements in the city.

Street Beautification Plan

An offer to beautify the streets of Salem with the installation of flower pots and flowers on lamp posts, suggested by the local Kiwanis Club, was taken under consideration.

Ralph Martin, a spokesman for the club, said his group would install and pay for the flower boxes and that local flower clubs would maintain them. He said there would be no cost to the city.

Complaints of garbage being deposited in the city land fill should be directed at private citizens, according to Councilman Albert Lesch. Mr. Lesch said he has received complaints of the garbage being dumped at the landfill on several occasions. However, he noted, a city employe who works around the landfill on Saturdays reported that he has seen citizens unload the raw garbage on the landfill from their cars.

Councilman Harold Astry asked that Council investigate the possibility of getting improved lighting facilities on S. Broadway. He said the present lighting fixtures are not up to date.

Council's appropriations and finance committee met with the Income Tax Committee since the last meeting of Council to discuss the need for such a tax and to gather vital data on the proposed measure. The brief report on the meeting was made by Councilman Fred Koenreich, chairman of the finance committee.

The income tax committee is a combination of committees proposed by City Council and Mayor Dean Cranmer. Both were advocated to make a study of the city's financial needs and problems. They were formed into a joint committee last week.

Says Signs, Posts Needed

A recommendation to purchase posts for "no parking" signs was made to city council by Mayor Cranmer. He said there were not sufficient sign posts to fill the need on N. and S. Lincoln Ave. and N. Ellsworth Ave.

He said 60 such posts could be purchased at an estimated $141. He noted that Council has appropriated $200 for the purchase of signs and posts.

The mayor also said the city could use three pedestrian crosswalk signs to be hung on State St.

Operational Date Set for Ohio A-Plant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio's first atomic reactor for a city electric light plant may be in operation by July 1961.

An Atomic Energy Commission spokesman made this prediction today about the reactor to be built at Piqua, Ohio, for its municipal plant.

The facility, using atomic fuel, will supply steam for the light plant. The whole process is being subsidized by the government as an experiment.

Technically, final approval to build the plant comes Jan. 28. That is the deadline for filing objections on grounds of safety or other reasons.

No such objection is anticipated by the AEC. Furthermore, the builder of the project, Atomics International, a subsidiary of North American Aviation, has been working on the site since July.

Another AEC hearing will be held in the spring to make sure the plant is safe to operate.

The cost of the Piqua plant has more than doubled since it was first planned in 1955.

At that time, it was estimated it would cost $5,621,000, exclusive of the cost of fuel. Today the estimate is $12,013,000.

But the AEC won't pay that much. Piqua is supplying $33,955,000 for land, buildings, supporting facilities and electric generators.

The AEC now is considering applications from cities for a different type of atomic reactor to produce steam for generators.

One application is from another Ohio city—Miamisburg.

President Asks Bond Interest Ceiling Be Lifted

Hopes Fiscal 1962 Budget Will Show $8 Billion Surplus

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today assured Congress that America's rising prosperity can go on breaking records through 1960 "and well beyond" if his budget is kept balanced, the debt reduced, and inflation curbed.

In his annual economic report, third and last of the major White House messages each session, Eisenhower foresaw national output vaulting to nearly 750 billion dollars a year by the end of the 1960s.

That would be half again as great as the 500-billion-dollar production peak in sight this year. The hazards that threaten this golden goal——inflation and speculation, hastening the onset of recessions—can be overcome, Eisenhower said, by a resolute effort of the government and the public to:.

Return Price Reductions

1. Restore an economy in which price reductions, as well as price increases, are "normal and frequent."

2. Build a "well-informed and vigilant public opinion" that will resist the attempts of business or labor "arbitrarily to establish prices or wages that are inconsistent with the general welfare."

3. Achieve a sizable budget surplus and devote it wholly to reducing the 290-billion-dollar federal debt. His fiscal 1961 budget, sent to Congress Monday, forecasts a $4,200,000,000 surplus.

The President gave only one other legislative proposal equal priority. He called urgently—for the fourth time in two weeks—for removal of the 4¼ per cent interest ceiling on federal bonds.

But he repeated most of the 79 legislative requests he sent to Congress in his budget message Monday.

No Reference To Tax Cut

There was no reference at all to general tax reduction—not even the heavily hedged prospect, voiced in the budget message, that "the next administration and the next Congress" might be able to consider some relief.

It was learned, however, that the administration hopes the fiscal 1962 budget, for the year starting in mid-1961, will show a seven or eight-billion-dollar surplus from rising economic activity. This would give room for both debt repayment and some reduction of taxes.

This hope underscored the importance of the President's fore-

Lions Club Marks Its Anniversary

Charter night ceremonies were conducted Tuesday night in the Lape Hotel by the Salem Lions Club.

Marking the occasion was a visit of several members of the Youngstown Lions Club which sponsored and helped organize the local club when it was founded 17 years ago.

Conducting the meeting was Clyde Williams, a past president. Mr. Williams was given the honor of conducting the meeting by Don Matthews, current president of the organization. The one night change in presidency was afforded because Mr. Williams was president of the Lions when Mr. Matthews was accepted as a member.

In view of the occasion, Coyd Reynard was made tailtwister for the evening, an office he held under Mr. Williams' presidency.

The program, with Howard Schaffer in charge, included brief talks by members of both clubs tracing the history of the local Lions. There also was group singing.

Terms It Move Against Russia

Soviet Denounces U.S. - Japan Pact

MOSCOW (AP)—The commander of Soviet forces in the Far East today denounced the new U.S.-Japanese security pact as a move against the Soviet Union. He warned that because of the treaty, the Kremlin might not honor its promise to return two islands seized from Japan in World War II.

Col. Gen. Valentin A. Penkovsky declared that in signing the new pact, Japanese Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi "may reap a whirlwind." He warned that in the event of war, Japan risks "retaliatory blows of devastating power."

Writing in the Soviet Communist party paper Pravda, Penkovsky said he thought the Soviet people would consider the Soviet Union released from its promise to return the tiny islands of Habomai and Shikotan, since "it is clear to everybody they will be used by foreign armed forces."

The two islands are just off the northeast tip of the Japanese island of Hokkaido and adjoin the Soviet-occupied Kurile Islands. The Soviet Union promised to return Habomai and Shikotan on the signing of peace treaty with Japan, but there has been no progress toward a treaty beyond a joint declaration in late 1956 ending the state of war between Japan and the Soviet Union.

Begins Work on 1961 Budget

$2 Billion Fund Cut Goal of House Group

WASHINGTON (AP)—A cut of two billion dollars or more in new appropriations was the minimum goal of House Appropriations Committee leaders today as they started work on the 1961 federal budget.

"We should be able to cut at least two billion dollars," said Chairman Clarence Cannon (D-Mo) in an interview.

"A couple of billion or more," said Rep. Taber of New York, senior Republican, commenting on budget-cutting prospects.

Both men are influential in determining the size of new appropriations bills which finance the federal budget. Both singled out civilian personnel as an area for sharp cuts and large money savings.

"The federal payroll tops a billion dollars a month," Cannon said. "The new budget provides for increases in personnel in every department of the government. We will seek to hold personnel to this year's levels. That would effect a considerable savings and would not interfere with efficiency."

Taber said his analysis of the president's $79,800,000,000 budget shows plans for 42,000 additional civilian employes in the government. At least 40,000 of those jobs, he said, should be disallowed. At an average salary of $4,000 per employe, Taber said savings of 160 million dollars could be effected in the personnel area alone.

"There are many other places for cuts, too," he said.

Repairs Planned At Post Office

Agency To Solicit Bids In March

Repairs and improvements to the Salem Post Office building are expected to be completed early this summer, Congressman Wayne L. Hays notified The News today.

He said the General Services Administration's region office in Chicago is planning to advertise in March for bids so that contracts can be let for the work to be done.

Improvements will include a new roof on the building, exterior and interior painting and minor miscellaneous repairs such as plastering, the GSA told Congressma Hays.

Completion date of the project will be June 30, Hays said.

Lack of attention to the local post office prompted the congressman to say earlier that he would attempt to speed up improvements at the building.

The General Services Administration has been studying plans for a larger loading dock at the rear of the post office but no word was available on this project.

He Didn't Know Much About Foreign Cars

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Thomas C. Owen, a salesman from Bath Twp. thinks service station attendants should learn a little more about foreign-make automobiles.

Owen drove his rear-engine Renault into a station for gas. The attendant began putting the fuel into the radiator, which also is in the rear. Then he noted his mistake and filled up the gas tank.

Owen asked: "Don't you think you should drain the radiator?"

"Oh, it won't make any difference," the attendant replied.

Two blocks away, the car caught fire. Damage: $200.

16 Aboard U.S. Craft Down In Mountains

42 on Scandinavian Airliner That Crashed Into Hill Near Ankara

ANKARA, Turkey (AP — Fifty-eight persons were feared dead today following the crashes of a U.S. Navy plane in a mountain near Adana and a Scandinavian jetliner on a hill near Ankara.

The Ankara disaster, in which all 42 persons died, was the third crash of a commercial airliner since 1960 began less than three weeks ago. It brought the death toll for commercial aviation this year to 126.

Sixteen Persons Aboard

Sixteen persons were board the U.S. plane, a two-engine P4M reconnaissance amphibian which vanished Tuesday night while on a flight from Rota, Spain to Adana.

Searchers today reported sighting the wreckage of the Navy craft on a mountain near Adana. Turkish sources said there was no sign of life.

At the U.S. Airbase here, a spokesman said the crash site was Karanfil Mountain, 15 miles northest of Adana. An American medic team of 40 men immediately set out for the area.

The dead in the Ankara crash included one American, James Hopkins of Birmingham, Mich., a chemical engineer for the Pfizer Corp. stationed in Istanbul. He was going to Cairo on business.

Also aboard was a Canadian woman identified as Mariella Laurrenden and two Britons.

One victim, 37-year-old Per Ekberg of Halsingborg, Sweden, was on his way to Cairo to bring home the ashes of his father, the Swedish consul general there, who died Jan. 11.

The plane was a French-built twin-jet Caravelle operated by Scandinavian Airlines. It was the first commercial crash for the Caravelle since Air France and the Scandinavian line began using it a year ago.

Encountered Heavy Rain

The plane encountered heavy rain and wind as it approached Ankara, but airport experts said the crash "was caused by technical reasons—not the weather."

Ths Caravelle had left Stockholm and Copenhagen Tuesday and had stopped in Duesseldorf, Germany, Vienna, Austria, and Istanbul. From Ankara it was to fly on to Damascus and Cairo. As it approached Ankara it carried 35 passengers and a crew of 7.

About five minutes before he was to land, the pilot asked the Ankara airport control tower for landing clearance. He reported an altitude of 6,500 feet, then went

4 Youths Sentenced For Assault on Girl

NEW YORK (AP) — Four Negro youths accused of raping a 14-year-old white girl have been sentenced to reformatory terms of 2½ to 5 years on a reduced charge.

The four teen-agers, sentenced Tuesday, pleaded guilty Nov. 17 to felonious assault with intent to commit rape, after the prosecution recommended acceptance of the plea. Had they been convicted of rape, they could have been sentenced to up to 20 years.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Anthony J. Di Paola commented, "This was not a typically vicious attack. The victim was on a social basis with the defendants before the attack."

The girl, Elvira Negri, admitted kissing and hugging one of the defendants, Jacob P. Bethea Jr., 17, a few days before the attack. She testified she had promised him later intimacies, but she said she did not intend to keep her promise.

The others sentenced were Henry C. Stokes, 16; Edward Jacobs, 17, and John P. Rich, 15. The girl said the boys threatened her, punched her, dragged her to the landing of an outside stairway and then raped her.

Mayor Tells of State Plans For Rt. 45

New South Bypass Being Considered

The re-routing of Rt. 45 around Salem has taken a new course in the planning, it was disclosed last night.

Mayor Dean Cranmer reported to City Council that the proposed re-routing by the State Highway Department is expected to begin near Zeiglers Market south of Salem on existing Rt. 45 and then angle toward the northwest, bypassing Salem and meeting existing Rts. 62 and 14 west of the city.

He said the proposed re-routing was revealed to him a week ago at a meeting with William McKenna, deputy director of Division 11, State Highway Department.

He pointed out that the Highway Department changed its routing of the proposed highway to a point farther to the south because of the danger of traffic accidents if motorists were forced to make the sharp angle turn from the Lisbon Road (Rt. 45) onto the Pidgeon Rd.

Mayor Cranmer elaborated on the proposed re-routing after a delegation of S. Lincoln Ave. residents told Council last night the removal of heavy traffic from S. Lincoln Ave. was slow in becoming a reality.

In an earlier proposal, the relocated Rt. 45 was to follow Pidgeon Rd. from existing Rt. 45 and veer to the northwest around the city in the vicinity of Depot Rd.

The Lincoln Ave. delegation asked if some temporary measure such as taking truck traffic over Pidgeon Rd. and Depot Rd. might be enacted to offer some relief in the traffic problem.

Members of the delegation noted they already had forwarded a petition asking for the removal of the traffic from Lincoln Ave. but had seen no action on their request.

Councilman Fred Koenreich said he felt the residents should request that the traffic be placed on Pidgeon Rd. and Depot Rd. rather than merely asking for a re-routing. He said he thought action would be speedier if the suggestion were put in such a way as to direct the Highway Department to a new location for truck traffic.

Mayor Cranmer said he felt the city might possibly help in promoting the re-routing even though all of the proposed routes are located out of the city. He said he would check through with the county to

Miller Breaks With DiSalle

Cuyahoga Chairman To File Own Slate

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and Cuyahoga County Democratic Chairman Ray T. Miller Sr. will have separate slates of candidates for delegate to the Democratic national convention.

Miller made a complete break with DiSalle on the delegate issue Tuesday and announced he will file a slate of candidates in four congressional districts here, plus six at-large delegate candidates.

And he threatened to expand the slate of at-large candidates to 36. Ohio will send two delegates from each congressional district and 36 at-large delegates to the convention at Los Angeles. The at-large delegates each will have half a vote, while other delegates will have a full vote each.

DiSalle reacted to Miller's action by saying, "Miller is entitled to run his own slate." He said he doesn't believe Miller's men will capture any delegate-at-large seats he (DiSalle) is seeking.

Both DiSalle and Miller are for U.S. Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts for president. But Miller says DiSalle and State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman tried to bind the Cuyahoga organization's delegates with pledges to follow DiSalle's leadership on all points — including choice of another candidate for presidential nominee in the event Kennedy is not nominated.

DiSalle and Coleman have denied asking Miller's group for pledges not asked of other candidates as alleged by Miller.

Miller says his group would be pledged to Kennedy and would follow his lead should he throw his support elsewhere.

Miller and his delegate candidates met after Coleman announced the names of candidates approved as at-large delegates to the convention. Miller had asked that 13 of his men be put on the list.

But only three were on the list announced by Coleman. Five other Clevelanders, including Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze, were on the list. Also on Coleman's list but not selected by Miller were former U.S. Sen. Thomas A. Burke; John E. Elder, former campaign manager for U.S. Sen. Frank J. Lausche; Harvey Johnson, prominent Negro attorney, and Bernard Friedman, deputy registrar of vehicles here.

Miller said his slate would include himself, U.S. Rep. Michael A. Feighan; Tom L. Terrell, deputy clerk of the County Board of Elections; John J. Carney, county auditor; Albert S. Porter, county engineer, and County Prosecutor John T. Corrigan.

He also listed candidates in each district here. Coleman has not yet announced the list of candidates in districts who will be pledged to DiSalle as favorite son.

Miller said his men might run listing themselves as favorite sons. There were reports that the delegate candidates might run on a slate headed by a John F. Kennedy—not the senator—as favorite son.

An official in the county organization said there is a John F. Kennedy in Ohio who would be

Man Sentenced For Harboring Woman Bandit

CLEVELAND (AP) — Louis A. St. Clair, 39, has been sentenced to 1 to 7 years in Ohio Penitentiary for harboring Alma Helen Malone, gunwoman in an abortive bank holdup attempt here Sept. 23.

A jury deliberated nearly four hours Tuesday before finding St. Clair guilty. Another man, Robert Gainor, 42, and a woman, Mrs. Margaret Barbour, 38, were acquitted of similar charges.

Mrs. Malone testified she met St. Clair in a bar after fleeing the area of the Cleveland Trust Co. branch. Her companion in the holdup, William Ansley, 32, was trapped inside the bank and committed suicide before police reached him.

Mrs. Malone told the court St. Clair took her to a house where he, Gainor and Mrs. Barbour were living.

Mrs. Malone was arrested at the house 10 days after the holdup. She has pleaded guilty to malicious entry of a financial institution and has been sentenced to a 20-year reformatory term.

Judge Joseph A. Artl, who sentenced St. Clair, ordered Mrs. Malone's sentence into effect Tuesday.

Ike Begins Final Year In Office Today

Plans No Formal Observance

Looking Forward To Private Life

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower started his eighth and final year in office today. He is looking forward eagerly to private life but there is one thing he wants much more.

He would like most of all to see his crusade for world peace bear real fruit in the next 12 months.

That is the way Eisenhower's aides sum up his outlook on this seventh anniversary of his taking over as president.

Eisenhower planned no formal observance of his inauguration anniversary.

It has been apparent for some time that Eisenhower is ticking off the days until his second term ends. At news conferences and on other occasions he has remarked that he has "only 18 more months to serve." "Only 15 more months to go." "Only a few months now and I'll be an ex-president."

Despite all that, close friends of Eisenhower say he has enjoyed his second term more than the first. Much of the first was marked by frustrations of various kinds—not serious enough, however, to cause him to decide against bidding for another four years in the White House.

At the start of this term, friends report, Eisenhower made up his mind to two things:

1. He would not be labeled as a "lame duck" president in the sense of playing a passive role and abdicating to the Democratic-controlled Congress.

2. He concluded the fact he couldn't run again could work to his advantage rather than otherwise.

And popularity polls report the President is riding high these days—much higher than at some other points the last seven years.

Quite likely nothing has done more to boost his popularity than his recent world traveling in behalf of "peace and friendship—in freedom," as he puts it. There is much more such travel ahead.

It is that goal of durable world peace that Eisenhower more and more is putting ahead of everything else as he begins his final year. He hopes time enough remains for him as President to see that goal brought much closer if not achieved.

At 69, Eisenhower actually is near two other achievements which interest him much less—the oldest man to serve as president, and the first to reach the age of 70 in the White House. Eisenhower's 70th birthday is Oct. 14. On Oct. 3 he can topple Andrew Jackson's record as the oldest president.

Youth Sentenced on Contributing Charge

LISBON — An 18-year-old Industry, Pa., youth was sentenced Tuesday by Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin for contributing to the delinquency of two 16-year-old East Liverpool girls by keeping them out after curfew.

His 17-year-old companion's case was set for Feb. 5 on traffic charge and contributing.

Jack Dean Azzarello was fined $50 and given a 30-day sentence in county jail after it was learned he was not the driver of the car that crashed into three homes on Dresden Ave., in East Liverpool early Sunday morning, while being chased by Deputy Herman Wellman.

Louis Ancrile, 17, of Midland, pleaded not guilty and his case will be heard Feb. 5. He was taken to the detention room in county jail after he was unable to make $1,000 bond set in the case by Judge Tobin.

It was learned at a preliminary hearing that Ancrile was on probation in Beaver County, Pa. The probation department in Beaver will be asked to be represented at the hearing Feb. 5, Judge Tobin said.

The meeting won't be wasted. Dan Collette, chamber secretary, said "there was so much interest and such a good turnout that we're going to have another meeting to see if there isn't something we can celebrate this summer."

3 Hours In Jail Change Stubborn Woman's Mind

CINCINNATI (AP)—A 78-year-old widow who vowed she'd go to jail before giving up her driving license had to do both Tuesday.

Mrs. Martha W. Schaefer was carried to jail on a stretcher by police when she refused to accompany officers to a scheduled court session.

The jail stay lasted nearly three hours. Mrs. Schaefer was finally persuaded to enter Judge Gilbert Bettman's courtroom voluntarily.

Officials of the state drivers' license department had been trying since last May to get Mrs. Schaefer to surrender her license. They contended her vision is too poor for driving.

Tuesday's court session was to answer a charge of failure to surrender the permit.

Instead of appearing in court, Mrs. Schaefer sent Judge Bettman two registered letters. She wrote, "I can be notified what the sentence is and I will comply"

The judge took a dim view of that idea and signed a court order for police to take the woman into custody.

When she finally showed up, the judge found her guilty, made confiscation of the license official and sentenced her to a fine of $25 and costs.

She paid the fine in cash and turned down an offer of a ride home. "I'd rather walk," she said.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I've never written to a columnist before but I need help from a stranger.

My wife' mother lives a few block from us. Shecomes over almost every day. "Grams" (as the kids call her) is a pleasant person and she never gets in my wife's way but frankly speaking I think she has a screw loose.

She tells our kids that they are of artistocratic blood. The children are 9, 8 and 6 and they're pretty puffed up because of Grams' colorful tales of titled and rich ancestors.

My wife and I know there's not a grain of truth in her stories. She's told the same yarns so many times that she actually belives them.

Should we tell the kids their grandmother is a wee mite off upstairs or would this be too much of a blow?—PLAIN FOLKS.

Dear Plain: Tell the kids that Grams is a nice person who likes to make up interesting stories for children. Explain that she is merely entertaining them and is not relating history as it actually happened.

You also might let your kids know that rich and titled ancestors aren't the important thing in America. Every individual has to do something on his own. People can't inherit achievement. Those who try to skate by on the accomplishments of ancestors are considered fools.

Adieu To Adonis

Dear Ann: I'm the type who calls a spade a spade so please clean up my language and print this letter.

I can't stop thinking about that woman who cried on your shoulder because she married a "homely little shrimp." She said she couldn't have done worse." I'd lik to tell her that she COULD have done a lot worse. I married the handsomest guy in town and my gorgeous husband almost cost me my sanity.

I know a man's looks don't determine his morals. But any sap knows a guy who is out-of-this-world handsome gets many more tempting opportunities to go hay-wire and the weak ones take them.

We weren't married a month when I saw my beautiful husband slipping out the back door of my next-door neighbor's home. (He was supposed to be at work.)

We spent 16 miserable years together. He was never home nights. I was afraid to go anywhere in the evening with friends for fear of running into him with some tramp.

My Adonis died four years ago and now I'm married to a plain-looking little guy. But his guiltless eyes are beautiful, and his smile is honest. I'm happy for the first time in 20 years.—MRS. AT PEACE.

Dear Mrs. At Peace: I received many letters expressing a similar point of view. Most of them came from women who had rotten luck with handsome husbands.

Some letters came from men who found life unbearable with exquisite women. The men who wrote didn't complain because their beautiful wives were unfaithful, however. For the most part their complaints stemmed from their inability to tolerate the stupidity of their magnificent dolls.

One wretched husband from Stamford, Conn., wrote: "Her lovely head was empty. Her eyes looked out but they did not invite you to look in. It was like being married to the prettiest mannequin in Macy's window. So I left."

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ward Boundaries Do Need Altering

Democratic leaders, who cried "gerrymandering" after City Council last month passed an ordinance to change ward boundaries, were comforted yesterday by the county prosecutor's opinion to the County Board of Elections that the move was illegal.

Issuing a ruling at the request of the election board, Prosecutor William Brokaw, himself a Republican, declared that, population-wise, the city of Salem was not entitled to a fifth ward and that any councilmanic action must be taken within three months after a decennial population census has been completed. It's been 10 years since the last census.

This may well be true and legally correct but it's obvious from past voting statistics that the wards as they now exist are not balanced. Residential expansions in the First and Fourth wards have resulted in heavier voting in these two wards and the creation from time to time of new precincts by the election board to remedy the situation.

The vote totals in the November municipal election showed 1,302 votes cast in the First Ward; 633 in the Second and 472 in the Third, while 2,194 were cast in the Fourth Ward. The combined totals of Wards One, Two and Three was only 313 greater than the entire Fourth Ward.

It's quite obvious that the First and Fourth Wards are out of proportion. New residential allotments in these two sections of the city have accounted for the increased growth. The population increase is likely to continue. The Second and Third wards, hemmed in by the First and Fourth, won't change.

With the new U. S. census scheduled to start this spring, it's not too early for the Board of Elections to give some study toward alleviating the conditions as they now exist. The city may not need a fifth ward and possibly couldn't qualify under Ohio law in this respect, but a revision of ward boundaries IS needed.

Two Visits to Compare

Now that the date has been set for President Eisenhower's visit to Russia, it will be interesting to watch the Communists' preparations for comparison with Nikita Khrushchev's visit to this country last fall.

The kind of thing we have in mind already has been evidenced to a degree. For instance, the Soviet press treatment of news about Eisenhower makes it obvious that the word has gone out to government-controlled media to play the sweetness-and-light tune. Unflattering remarks the President has made about Russians recently have been attributed to vague government sources rather to him personally.

The American press, of course, was under no such handicap regarding the Soviet boss. The President urged everyone to treat him courteously, but would not have thought of suggesting that we all act like we loved him. If he had thought of suggesting it, it would have been impossible to carry out.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT difference is that Dwight Eisenhower apparently still remains the popular military hero of World War II in the minds of many rank-and-file Russians. So a good deal of the outward signs of good will which the Kremlin will encourage the masses to show toward the President will be genuine.

Americans treated Khrushchev with courtesy in most instances, but seldom was there a pretense that we found anything in his life to command our deep-seated affection. President Eisenhower's international reputation still rests on the foundation of a good deed well done. Premier Khrushchev's reputation rests on the foundation of misdeeds ruthlessly done.

Still another contrast between the two visits was occasioned by the President himself. He reportedly has ruled out any public spontaneous debates with his Soviet hosts because he deems them unbefitting the dignity of his office.

Aside from the fact that he is not as talented at this sort of ad lib give-and-take as Vice President Nixon, who starred in such an exchange in Moscow last year, the President is aware that Russians and Americans both like to see in their leaders a touch of the "grand manner."

PREMIER KHRUSHCHEV'S willingness to indulge in such exchanges has not helped his prestige anywhere in the world. For one thing, he tends to get angry; (the President has a touchy temper, too) and then to betray his mercurial temperament—hardly a qualification for delicate diplomatic dealings.

For another, Premier Khrushchev's frowns and pouts and glares sometimes made him look more like a spoiled fool than a leader.

Before the President returns to the United States, there will be many opportunities to play this little parlor game of comparisons. It should offer some insight into the differences between Russia and America.

Home Fire Drills

The story of a Cleveland Heights family whose members coolly and calmly removed themselves from danger when fire struck their home in the night bears a lesson for every family everywhere.

The secret lay in fire drills which the head of the family had conducted since 1942. When fire struck, the reaction of even the smallest child was intelligent and sure.

Fire drills are conducted as a matter of course in schools and many industries, and their value has been proved repeatedly. Many a teacher will attest to the absence of panic and the presence of mind among her charges when a real emergency arose.

Yet few parents translate this knowledge into action at home, where fires at night when the family is sleeping can be much more of a threat than a blaze in a school during daylight hours.

The Cleveland Heights home owner put his finger on the crux of the matter when he said he conducted the drills even though he thought he would never have to use them.

Today, with his family all safe, the effort expended in 18 years of what may sometimes have seemed pointless drills can hardly be considered a waste of time.

Spirited Primary Seen

Political candidates are declaring themselves so fast these days that it's taking a special file to keep track of them all. And, with the filing deadline still two weeks away to qualify for a place on the May primary ballots, it's likely that others will jump into the political arena.

Contests are assured for practically every county and district office that will be at stake. Both parties are busy. A spirited primary campaign looms.

Which all adds up to a political bill of fare to whet the voters' appetites.

Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

What management needs most in labor battles is a representative who doesn't seem to have been born in an Eskimo igloo.

"Industry's spokesmen are less capable in the dramatic arts than labor's men," says R. Conrad Cooper. It was meant to be sarcastic but the audience response was, "You said a mouthful, Bub."

In an age when the public goes fo color, drama, personality and punch, too many speakers for management put on a coast-to-coast show of smugness and complete lack of audience appeal. This, despite the long established fact that labor picks spokesmen who combine showmanship of Hollywood, Radio City, Broadway, Billy Graham's campaign, P. T. Barnum and the School of Drama.

Steel chiefs on TV and in press stories seemed never to have heard of audience reaction, TV ratings or good publicity. It made as much sense as sending in Emily Post to hold the line against a modern William Jennings Bryan.

Industry in a day of airwave communications warms up its speakers with a firm "Now go in there in your best black-tie mood, keep your voice down and protect yourself at all times from an impulse to get emotional."

To a plea of "Can't I show a little warmth in the clinches?" the reply must be, "No. Only the workers sink as low as that."

Menagement argues that the other side employs the tactics of a demagogue. But "it ain't necessarily so." A speaker can have warmth, color and moderate "sence chewing" instinct and still seem effective instead of something left over from last night's cold-cuts buffet.

Steel negotiations from the start gave Mr. MacDonald the exclusive dramatic rights, star dressing room and special lighting. Everybody in management, in conciliation group or in the government acted as if merely auditioning for the role of "Little Miss Muffet."

BACK HOME STUFF: We ran across a newspaper bearing advertisements of bygone years. . . . "Athenium Dining Room, Regular Dinner 30 Cents, Board $4 a Week." . . . "Try Lamberts for Silk Shirts at $1.50" . . . "Pianos To Rent $10 a Year." . . . "A. B Greenwood for Smart Shoes $3 to $4" . . . "Brass Beds, Bowditch Furniture Co. $7," and one that tells of an age when people bought eyeglasses for life and adjusted them themselves: "I screwed up my eyeglasses six times today," said one customer. "With our new Lens Locked Screw, this is unnecessary. A knife blade is likely to break your glasses. So invest in a lens-locked pair. Howe & Stetson."

THESE ARE TIMES when a world championship fight can be postponed because lawyers are not in shape.

The Post Office Department which never lets a day pass without changing stamp styles is now putting out one with mottoes. First one bears Ben Franklin's words, "Fear to do ill and you need fear nothing else."

Good but, in a rash of new stamps in assorted lengths, widths and designs we think Mr. Summerfield should turn out some 4-centers with the following:

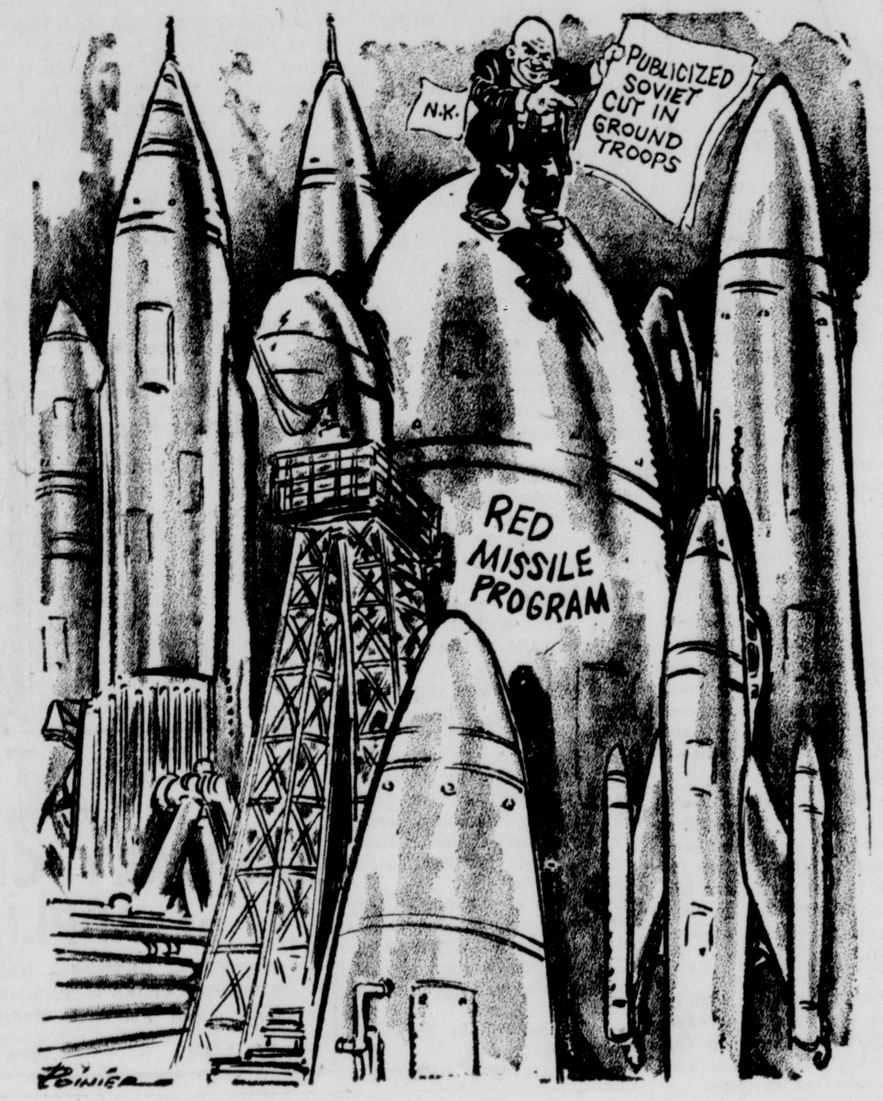

1. The beginning of wisdom comes with the ability to recognize today's postage stamp from last nights.

2. Patience is the virtue of patience while trying to decide whether what you are putting on a letter is a postage stamp, a kidney plaster or a trading coupon.

3. If you don't succeed in finding a stamp that isn't too big for the envelope, try, try again.

Peace, It's Wonderful!

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

There was a wistful sadness in the crooner's voice. He wasn't singing. He was talking—fast. A little dazed. A little amazed. His lyrical world of fantasy in rhyme had hit the world of the gutter — real hard. So had he — Don Antony — one of the few singers and record merchants cooperating with the authorities probing payola.

Victor Riesel

I can't tell you much about Don's ballading of "I'm Sorry I Made You Cry" and "Only God Knows." But it can be reported that the 31-year-old crooner was beaten three weeks ago in front of the New York Lambs Club not too far from where I first took it not too long ago.

Don Anthony was slugged for talking to crusading Manhattan District Attorney Frank Hogan and to the federals on Rep. Oren Harris' payola probing congressional committee staff.

SOME DAYS LATER at a Yonkers night club, five men walked up and told Anthony they'd rock and roll him a couple of times when he got outside after the show. The police stopped that one.

Another evening two hoods strolled up in front of the Hotel Edison and told him to get out of town. Windows in his apartment were stoned. Telephone threats keep him awake with midnight jangling.

All in all there have been 10, maybe 15, of the "boys" involved in "Operation Fright" on the now isolated singer.

"Okay, I'm frozen out. They're keeping me from working. They tell me they'll kill me," Anthony said.

"Okay, I don't mind taking a beating. It isn't that or the fact that they're making me the goat because I went down and signed affidavits telling of the payoffs in this music business in New York, Boston, Chicago and Philadelphia. But how do we win?

"I wouldn't be eating or paying the rent if the Lambs Club wasn't helping. How do we win if the hoods show that they can take on powerful government forces?

"I went down because of the moral issue. I didn't like what they were doing to the youth of the country. I didn't like what they were doing with the music they were feeding the teen-agers."

"Does that sound corny? It isn't. It leads right to the toughest crowd. Who else has such enforcers on hand to roam the streets of the big city — or any city? What are they protecting?

"I run Barbizon Records. I wanted to get my platters into juke boxes so they could sell. Do you know I had to give three records away for nothing for every one the distributors would pay for?

"I went down because it wasn't moral asd I got sick at heart over payola. It happens. Somebody's got to stand up or what happens to the government itself?"

TODAY DON ANTHONY is under FBI and local police guard. Is this what happens to a 31-year-old making his way through the night club circuit? He goes hungry and lives under bodyguard.

There's a role here for the unions whose members are being pushed around. It is bad enough that there are some national labor leaders who have been living under armed bodyguard for almost a decade but the rank-and-filer doesn't have much of a chance.

Don Anthony belongs to the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists and the American Guild of Variety Artists.

These are good unions — quick to fight a grievance in a network or a night spot. But this is the most basic grievance of all — a member terrorized, a member going hungry, a member deprived of his right to walk the free streets of a nation which has always thought itself just a little better than the blackshirt laden, brownshirt truncheoned, MVD filled streets of foreign totalitarianism.

Those unions, all unions, should help their brethren in agony. An injury to one is an injury to all. Or has that been expurgated from labor's covenants?

New High For Spending

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP) — It's the civilians, not the military, that are sending next year's federal spending to a new high. And another big factor is the steady climb in interest payments on the record federal debt.

It's increased income tax payments by individuals and corporations that is sending hoped-for receipts to a still higher figure.

President Eisenhower in his fiscal budget proposes to spend about the same for national security in the fiscal year starting July 1 as in the current one.

But he is expecting the Treasury to spend 9½ billion dollars in interest on the 292 billion dollar debt — even though he hopes to shave that debt next year. The new interest spending would be 200 million dollars more than in the fiscal year, and nearly two billion dollars more than in the fiscal year that ended June 30, 1959.

That's because the debt has climbed steadily and because interest rates have, too.

In fiscal 1961 the Treasury will put out for interest 12 cents of every dollar it spends.

The new budget also calls for a 300-million-dollar increase in payments to veterans; 128 million more for labor, welfare and education; 38½ million more for reclamation; 950 million more for various forms of U.S. mutual securit programs; and 510 million more by the Agriculture Department for such things as crop price supports.

The new spending and income figures are awesome enough in themselves — a budget figure of 79¾ billion dollars for spending and 84 billion dollars in hoped for income. But that is only part of what the Treasury actually will take in and put out.

Some of its collections and payments don't get into the budget at all. They include such things as social security, unemployment compensation, and highways.

Add them in, and Uncle Sam may find himself collecting from his nephews 102¼ billion dollars, if all goes well, and spending 96¼ billion. This would leave a cash surplus of six billion dollars. Part of that would accrue to the special funds for which the Treasury collects and pays out. It would still leave the President some 4¼ billion budget surplus dollars to apply to the debt.

The Treasury expects to collect all that money because Uncle Sam's nephews are believed due to have their most prosperous year.

It expects the total dollar value of all goods and services produced in 1960 to rise 30 billion dollars over 1959 to a record 510 billion dollars.

Out of this the Treasury expects individuals to increase their own take by 20 billion dollars to 380 billion. It looks for corporation profits before taxes to rise by 3 billion to a total of 51 billion dollars.

And the Treasury wants neither individual nor corporate income tax rates pared. It even hopes for a higher tax on gasoline and higher postal rates.

SIDE GLANCES By Galbraith

"It must be love. Nothing penetrates the fog she's in except a car horn and the telephone!"

Hold-The-Line Budget

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Ike Wants Surplus Applied On National Debt

The average man will not take the time or the trouble to analyze the President's budget. He will read instead the comments of the partisan critics — those who say the proposed expenditures are not high enough and those who say that the very idea of using a surplus to wipe out some of the public debt is impractical and that the money should be spent for all sorts of projects — and, besides, who believes there will be a surplus anyhow?

David Lawrence

There certainly will not be if the spenders have their way.

When a budget reaches Congress, the problem is too often viewed from the standpoint of partisan gain or loss.

When the President declares that he expects a budget surplus of 4,200,000,000 and that this should be applied to a reduction of the public debt, the skeptics immediately say there will be no such surplus.

Others think it is a mistake to cut down the debt and that more money should be spent on either defense or public welfare.

But a federal budget is at best a compromise. Someone has to exercise an overall judgment. Members of Congress represent particular districts or states and many of these legislators do not look at a budget from the national standpoint. Only the chief executive seems to express that viewpoint.

TH E BEST WAY to describe the new proposal for the coming fiscal year, which begins July 1, is to call it a hold-the-line budget.

It is amazing that the proposed budget of expenditures has been held down to $79,200,000,000 as compared with $78,600,000,000 for the current fiscal year that ends June 30.

It will be recalled that the 1959 budget was for $80,700,000,000, that actually there is something of a reduction to be noted in the course of the two fiscal years.

The 1959 budget, moreover, had to take care of a deficit due to the recession.

Mr. Eisenhower feels that, now that business has recovered, the excess of tax receipts over expenses should be applied to the public debt. He says:

"Unless some amounts are applied to the reduction of debt in prosperous periods, we can expect an even larger public debt if future emergencies or recessions again produce deficits.

"In times of prosperity, such as we anticipate in the coming year, sound fiscal and economic policy requires a budget surplus to help counteract inflationary pressures, to ease conditions in capital and credit markets and to increase the supply of savings available for the productive investment so essential to continued economic growth."

Nowhere in the President's message is there a detailed discussion of the effects of inflation on government costs but the steady increase over the last several years in the annual budgets is due to the fact that the prices of the same quantity of articles bought by the government now are substantially higher than ever before.

In national defense, the new budget is just a small amount higher than last year. Yet the increased costs to the government due to inflation constitute a sizable amount.

This means that the government must cut down on what it buys in order to keep within the same limits of expenditures. The defense budget is around 41 billion dollars.

There are critics who think the military budget should have no limits. But if budget limitations were disregarded, the net result of such a course would be to weaken the whole economic structure not only of this country but of the free world.

IN TIME OF WAR there is, of course, no limit to the spending or the size of the debt but in a period such as the world faces today the feeling of all governments, including the Soviet regime, is that expenses can and must be limited.

One reason perhaps is that, with the invention of destructive weapons of the nuclear type, it isn't so important to argue about how many more millions of people can be destroyed by more weapons but to come to a decision as to whether the existing defense power is adequate as a deterrent against another nation's armament.

In this, the collective judgment of military men, plus the best appraisal possible based on intelligence information from other countries, is available to the President, who makes the final decision.

The budget doesn't contain all that Congress may want to see spent but, unless limits placed by the President are respected, the result can be more inflation and a consequent rise in prices not only for the general public but for the government's own purchases.

That's why the hold-the-line philosophy has been adopted by the administration as the best possible course under the circumstances.

Husband-Pecked Wives

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Henpecked husbands get a lot of sympathy outside the home.

"But nobody," wails a lady reader, "ever worries or feels sorry about husband-pecked wives—and there are millions of them in America."

The lady has a point, although she may be off in her figures. Here and there, even in our matriarchal society, there must be vestiges of the barbarian past—homes in which the man is still boss, and wears the trousers in the family.

Probably the reason husband-pecked wives get so little sympathy is that it is so hard to tell them.

How can a wife know if she's husband-pecked? weli, she probably is if:

Her husband brings his uncashed pay check home in his mouth, and forces her to handle all the money, so that if the family doesn't save anything, she is the one to blame.

He samples her medicines regularly but hoards his own medicines and won't share them with her.

The alarm clock is three feet nearer her twin bed than his twin bed, so that she has to turn it off each morning.

He gives her a tool chest for Christmas.

She is the one who spanks the children when they are naughty, and he is the hero who then takes them to the drugstore and buys them candy.

When they have finished a dinner she has labored over for five hours, he says in front of the guests, "Never mind the dishes, dear. I'll do them later."

No matter what kind of new hat she buys, he always praises it, so she is never quite sure whether he thinks she looks ridiculous or lovely.

He insists that she buy all his clothes, so she can't retaliate by criticizing his own taste.

When it's time to curry the lawn, he guides the power mower, and she gets down on all fours to pull the crag grass.

On Mother's Day she stays at home with the kids, and he takes his own mother out to dinner.

He tells her, "I sure wish my secretary was half as smart as you are," and she wonders if what he really is thinking is, "I wish you were half as pretty as she is."

Looking Backward

5 YEARS AGO — In honor of their 20th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Falk were feted at a family dinner party Sunday.

10 YEARS AGO — David Brisken is the new president of the Salem Stamp and Coin Club.

25 YEARS AGO—Albert Thomas and Robert Ketterer entertained six couples at a dinner party Friday at the Ketterer home.

So They Say

Americans want a continuation of that strong, dynamic, peaceful government that they've had for eight years.
—GOP National Chairman Thruston B. Morton.

The nation wants a change from the tired, vacillating, uncertain government under President Eisenhower to a dynamic and positive approach to our problems under a Democratic president.
—Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler.

Nixon personally had as much to do with settling the (steel) strike as I had. The report that he did is just political camouflage to build him up.
—Rep. Ray J. Madden (D-Ind.).

Snow Throttles Portland, Ore.

Three Dead; Stores, Schools Are Closed

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)— Thick snow today throttled Portland an its 373,000 residents.

It stifled activity everywhere in a city accustomed to winter's balmier touch of rain and warming winds from the Pacific.

Up to a foot of snow forced widespread closure of stores and schools and stranded hundreds of suburbanites who sought shelter in jammed downtown hotels.

Three deaths here were attributed to the storm, accompanied by icy east winds that funneled out of the Columbia River gorge.

Forecasters said they expected the cloak of snow to be several inches deeper tonight. Things probably will get even worse, they said, for freezing rain is expected, and that glazes with ice most everything it touches.

The storm that began Monday spread out a big overnight, marching northward as far as Puget Sound and dropping snow in Seattle.

The depth of the snow in Portland ranged from nine inches downtown to a foot in the plush residential areas in the city's west hills.

All major highways were reported open. But officials warned that all were dangerous, and urged a travel boycott on much-traveled U.S. Highway 30 up the Columbia Gorge.

At the capital at Salem, where the snow depth ranged from five to 10 inches, Gov. Mark Hatfield urged everyone to stay off highways unless travel was a sheer necessity.

Thousands apparently heeded the advice in Portland. Streets were virtually deserted and stores and business firms started closing at noon Tuesday to let their workers get an early start home. Hundreds upon hundreds never made it.

For those who were interested, resorts at Mount Hood said the skiing there was good.

Fellowship Class of the United Presbyterian Church served dinner to 85 members and guests of the Trustees and Clerks Association of Mahoning County.

Home Extension Group To Attend Meeting

Fifteen townships are expected to send representatives of their local home extension clubs to receive training on broiler meals at a leader training meeting which will be held Tuesday in the home economics room at the Lisbon High School, according to Miss Julia Shank, county extension agent in home economics.

The meeting is scheduled from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., with Miss Shank as instructor.

Women interested in this meeting should contact the home counselor in their townships or watch the newspapers for dates of their local meetings on this subject, Miss Shank said.

PROBE BOMB REPORTS

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) —Reports that bombs were placed in New Miami and Seven Mile scools sent sheriff's deputies and police on a search of both schools late Tuesday night. Nothing suspicious was found immediately.

Deputies said the reports apparently were part of a series of incients stemming from a fight after last Friday's basketball game between Seven Mile and Trenton Deputies said they intercepted several groups of boys Monday night bent on planned gang fights.

OPERATOR AIDS WOMAN

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A Warren Telephone Co. operator went to the aid of an elderly woman stricken with a heart attack Tuesday. Patricia Lego, of Warren, answered a long distance signal on her switchboard, but heard nothing except moans at the other end.

The call was traced to a five-party line. Police soon found the person in need of help, Mrs. Margaret Murray, 71, of Warren, who was later reported responding to treatment at a hospital here.

Firearms Measure At Columbiana Defeated

COLUMBIANA — In a unanimous 5-0 vote Tuesday night, Village Council defeated an ordinance proposing to regulate the sale of "dangerous weapons" within the corporate limits.

First brought up at a Council meeting in December, the ordinance, applicable only to weapons which could be concealed on a person, stirred up more comment and criticism than any measure in recent history

About 25 citizens, chiefly members of the Columbiana Gun Club and National Rifle Association, attended the meeting. Nearly everyone commented against the legislation.

Reasons ranged from the remark that "anyone with criminal intent could get a weapon regardless of any ordinance," to the comment that any weapons registration list would be a threat to the security of the nation should any subversive element attempt to gain control.

The meeting was transferred temporarily from the regular council chambers to a large meeting room nearby to accommodate the overflow audience. Later, Council returned to its meeting room where the vote was finally taken at 11:30 p.m.

In other business, Council approved Mayor E. L. Calvin's recommendation of the appointment of Carl Spratt as street commissioner for another one-year term, his tenth year.

A fire protection contract with Fairfield Township did not come up for discussion, a spokesman for the Township Trustees indicating they would be on hand for the next meeting, Feb. 2, to talk over the pact.

One councilman, Harry Fullerton, was absent.

Japanese Official Pledges Help to Poorer Nations

WASHINGTON (AP) — Japan's Prime Minister pledged today that his country "is prepared to assume its full share of the burden" of aiding less developed nations.

The free world "cannot live half rich and half poor, half well and half sick, half strong and half weak," he said in an address for a National Press Club luncheon.

His pledge supported this country's effort to have its Allies—including Japan, a nation it defeated in war 15 years ago—join it in an expanded effort to raise living standards in the poorer countries.

"Notwithstanding the great efforts made by the free world thus far, the gap between the economic growth of the highly developed industrial nations and the less-developed countries continues to widen," Kishi said.

Kishi paid tribute to a U. S.-Japanese mutual assistance treaty signed Tuesday at White House ceremonies that brought Japan to the status of an equal ally with the United States.

"Needless to say, it is a treaty for peace, not for war," he said.

"Peace and progress are the imperatives of history and the cry of mankind," he added.

and S. Broadway. He estimated the cost of purchasing the three signs at $142.

On Ellsworth Ave., the mayor indicated, there are not sufficient "no passing" on the west side of the street. The no passing zone begins at W. 10th St. but no signs are there to warn motorists.

Councilman Lesch added that he has observed trucks far exceeding the legal speed limit on N. Ellsworth. He said the situation is manified by the number of school children using the street. He said adequate signs should be installed.

Street Load Limits Urged

An ordinance limiting the load limit on many streets in the city was recommended by Mayor Cranmer. He said an ordinance probably would considerably reduce the number of complaints received on heavy traffic using secondary streets.

He noted, however, that the restrictions should not be placed on state routes or on streets leading to industrial plants.

The mayor said he would like the heads of any department directly affected by a council ordinance to receive a copy of the ordinance. He said it would result in better enforcement of ordinances and in better organization of city functions.

The regular Council meeting scheduled Feb. 2 will be held at 5:30 p.m. rather than the usual starting time of 7:30.

In communications, Council received a letter of acceptance of terms and conditions from the Ohio Fuel Gas Company regarding the rate ordinance enacted in December.

Ike

cast of rising production and income well beyond 1960. A recession later this year or in 1961 would undercut the prospect of tax relief by shrinking tax collections.

Although not specifically so stated in the message, the administration is known to believe that the best policy for fostering stable growth is to make some reduction in the debt every year in the calculable future.

It was learned also that Eisenhower had the steel and auto industries very much in mind when he called for price reductions whenever rising productivity permits them.

Suffered Greater Setbacks

Those industries have suffered greater setbacks in foreign markets than any other major segments of the U.S. economy.

The message also pointed up the role Eisenhower wants Congress to play in improving the economy.

Eiseshower indicated that, despite the painful impact of last fall's 116-day steel strike, he will resist any moves in Congress to restrict collective bargaining or regulate private wage and price decisions.

Keeping wage settlements within the limits of rising productivity, the President said, is the joint responsbility of labor and management—a responsbility that is "especially great in industries that are basic to the nation's defenses and economic health."

"Labor-management disputes in basic industries should be settled promptly, preferably without recourse to strikes, and certainly without extended interruptions of production that cause widespread dislocation and unemployment and threaten to paralyze our entire economy," the message said.

State May Improve Beaver Creek Park

Plans to clean up canal sites in Beaver Creek Park near East Liverpool and to lay out hiking trails were reported in a letter to Columbiana County commissioner R. Max Gard of Lisbon from William B. Price, chief naturalist for the Ohio Department of Natural Resources' Parks Division.

Price, who said he plans to visit the county Monday and Tuesday, advised Gard the Division is studying some improvements in the park.

Gard has suggested to state officials further improvements be made for the park in order to better utilize its recreational potential and to mark the historical significance of the area, including the locks of the former Sandy and Beaver Canal.

Pistol Sniper Wounds Wife of Policeman

FOSTORIA, Ohio (AP)—A 15-year-old pistol sniper wounded the wife of a Fostoria policeman at midnight Tuesday as she sat near her living-room picture window watching television.

Fostoria police arrested the youth, a neighbor, at his home four hours later. He is being held on a charge of attempted murder.

Mrs. Joan Swisehart, 30-year-old mother of three children, was taken to Fostoria City Hospital. She suffered two wounds—in the scalp and in her arm—when the .22 - caliber slug split apart as it smashed through the glass window, according to police. Her condition was listed as fair.

Snow tracks led to the boy's home. He admitted the shooting, police said. He said he only intended to scare Mrs. Swinehart.

Her husband, who was on duty, was among the first to answer the call. "If the slug had not split when it hit the window, the shot could have killed her," Swinehart said.

Man Who Ought to Know Gives Advice About 'Teen' Wives

HOLLYWOOD Calif. (AP) — Teen-age wives?

"You have to spank them once in a while," says Glynn Wolfe, "but after they're tamed they made wonderful wives."

Wolfe, 46, a Hollywood hotel owner, should know. He has been married 12 times. Each marriage has been to a teen-ager, he said Tuesday "because they're happy that they don't have to work, and they don't make demands."

The break-up comes, the Indiana native added, when the girls get "fidgety" and want to "run loose."

"And you can't hold anybody if they don't want to stay."

The girls, however, often return after the divorce, Wolfe said, because: "They know if they get in a jam, they can come home. I feel obligated to furnish them a place to live and eat."

Four former Wolfe wives reside in his hotel. When one of them went to get a divorce from her second husband Monday, the other three and Wolfe went along to volunteer as corroborating witnesses.

Only Wolfe was called to testify, however, and Shirley Lou Espy, 23n was free by default from her radio executive husband, William D. Espy.

Wolfe's parade of wives began in 1932 in Vincennes, Ind. By 1936 he had been married and divorced four times and a judge asked him not to turn Vincennes into a Hollywood, Wolfe said.

"So I went to Hollywood."

Wolfe said he considers each trip before a justice of the peace to recite marriage vows his last.

"But it's awful easy to get a divorce,' he added, "and they're a bad habit, believe me."

Man Bound Over on Auto Theft Counts

LISBON — Stanley C. Lovett, 18, of Lacroft, pleaded guilty to two charges of operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent before County Judge James L. McDonald Tuesday.

Lovett was apprehended by the Wellsville police and sheriff's deputies in a stolen car near Cannons Mills last Friday night. He admitted stealing the car from Minerva St., East Liverpool.

learn whether or not Pidgeon Rd. has been designed to carry heavy truck traffic.

The question of traffic loads on the county road was brought up by Councilman Arthur Hanna. He said he had never seen a report stating the Pidgeon Rd. was designed to carry heavy traffic.

One of the bottlenecks in ironing out problems in the city, as emphasized by Council President Michael Schuller, is the divergent opinions of so many of the residents.

He noted that if the re-routing over Pidgeon Rd. and Depot Rd. were approved, there would be a second delegation into Council next week asking that the routing be changed.

He said similar situations on other problems had arisen before.

Income Tax Card Must Be Returned

That little "greeting card" you may have just received from U.S. Internal Revenue Service — the one with the tiny holes punched in it — safeguard it. Use it as your federal income tax return.

You will save the government — and hence all taxpayers — money, and you will be speeding up the handling of the annual avalanche of returns.

Melvin J. Burton, director of Internal Revenue for the Cleveland District, issued this appeal to those taxpayers who have recently received in the mails a "pre-punched" card Form 1040A for this year's return.

When the taxpayer files his return using the prepunched card, Internal Revenue can use the return to locate mechanically another card in which the taxpayer's name and address have already been punched.

If the taxpayer fails to use the pre-punched card, and makes his return on another blank, IRS must spend additional time and money on the job of handpunching the name and address again.

It's costly and time-consuming work, and it has to be done each year for several million taxpayers who have lost, destroyed or mutilated the pre-punched cards sent them.

OHIO FIVE DAY FORECAST

Improved Infield Defense Hikes Tribe's Pennant Hopes

By JOE GORDON

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — When a club finished a very good second as the Cleveland Indians did in 1959, the manager must certainly approach the next season in terms of hoping to win the pennant. I honesty feel that we have just as good chance as any other club.

Our picture is brightened by the improved infield defense. Now, if our young pitchers should improve at the normal rate you might expect of them, we certainly should have an exciting and interesting summer.

I am delighted with the changes we have made. The acquisition of a star of Johnny Temple's caliber and the addition of Bubba Phillips settles the infield problem that bothered us so much last year. With Vic Power at first, Temple at second, Woody Held at short and Phillips at third, we have the best infield in the league.

Tito Francona in left field and Rocky Colavito in right seem definite fixtures and either Jim Piersall or Carroll Hardy will be in center. It's possible Tito may not repeat his .363 average of last year but I honestly feel he did adjust his swing to the point where he now is a dangerous hitter, always able to hit well over .300.

Colavito hit 42 home runs and drove in 111 runs last year, following an equally productive year in '58. This indicates to me he will be among the majors' premier hitters for several seasons to come. Both Piersall and Hardy are top-flight fielders. The one who shows me the best hitting will win the job. Chuck Tanner and Don Dillard, a powerful left-handed hitter with great potential, are my outfield reserves.

Many folks think we might be somewhat thin in pitching now that Cal McLish is gone. There's no doubt we will miss Cal but I think our young pitchers will pick up the slack. Gary Bell who won 16 last year after winning 12 the year before should continue to improve. So should Jim Perry, who can become one of the great pitchers of the league. Bobby Locke and Jim Grant will also be better. I'm also counting on Jack Harshman.

Herb Score could pick us up if he pitched for a full season as he did in the first half of 1959 when he won nine games.

Johnny Romano, whom we obtained from Chicago and Russ Nixon give us two fine young catchers.

Next:: Billy Rigney, San Francisco Giants.

Crosby Golf Tournament Set Thursday

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP)—Bing Crosby envisioned a golfing get together of friends when he first staged his tournament at Rancho Santa Fe in Southern California in 1937.

He couldn't guess that the 20th event starting Thursday would find 300 golfers playing three courses in a pro-amateur tournament which provides a true test of golf ability with $50,000 at stake.

They started calling Bing's event a clambake soon after it started and the name stuck despite the growth of the tournament and the postwar switch in sites to this Monterey Peninsula bordering the Pacific.

If you doubt the clambake actually brings rugged competition for four days, check the list of winners and you'll find the proven pros take away the big money.

Last year it was Art Wall Jr., who went on to win the Masters and become Golfer of the Year. In 1958 top honors went to Billy Casper, the current U. S. Open champion.

Others include Sam Snead, Ben Hogan, Byron Nelson, Cary Middlecoff, Lloyd Mangrum, Jimmy Demaret and Ed Furgol. You don't find a longshot one-timer among them.

Play is over three courses—6,31.-yard Cypress Point with a 37-35—72 par; 6,246-yard Monterey Peninsula with 35-37—72; and 6,701-yard Pebble Beach at 36-36—72.

In the pro-amateur, the professionals team with amateurs that include celebrities of business, professions and entertainment. The amateur's handicap is figured in the scoring.

Again, as in the past two tournaments, television (ABC) will cover the final day's activities at Pebble Beach with the program scheduled from 2:30 to 4 p.m. Pacific standard time.

The Bulldogs fought to a 19-9 advantage in the first stanza. By the intermission, they had hiked this margin to 30-17.

n the third period. the Lisbon shooting improved, but the gain was not sufficient to obtain the lead. Starting the final division, the Bulldogs held the Blue Devils 48-29.

In the final period the Bulldogs took full advantage of Lisbon's lack of height by controlling the boards and netting 16 points.

This win leaves the Bulldogs with a 7-2 season standing. The Poland Tri-County League record is 3-2.

The Bulldogs will journey to Leetonia Friday for their next tilt.

NFL to Elect Commissioner

Ponder Expansion Of 12-Team Loop

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Whether to expand or keep its svelte, 12-team figure is the major decision facing the National Football League as it opens what could be a stormy meeting today.

The club owners also will elect a league commissioner. This may be the first order of business, although league rules place it eighth in line.

Other items, such as changes in playing rules, the player limit, minimum game guarantees, radio and television contracts and discussion of the congressional investigation into pro sports also are on the agenda, but it is expansion which has the owners talking to themselves, as well as to each other.

Three cities—Dallas, St. Louis and Minneapolis-St. Paul—already have made their pitches forNFL membership. Miami was to paint its rosy picture for the owners today, and it was reported late Tuesday that Atlanta also was expected to ask for a hearing.

A battle looms over the expansion question. Under the constitution a unanimous vote is necessary to take in two teams, and there are two dissenters.

George Preston Marshall of the Washington Redskins and Walter Wolfner, executive director of the Chicago Cardinals, are the two opposing the action.

Marshall says he feels expansion at this time leaves the league open to charges of trying to destroy the new American Football League.

It is expected that an effort will be made to amend the constitution so that only 10 of the 12 votes would be necessary to approve the taking in of new members.

Unless something unforeseen turns up, it appears that Acting Commissioner Austin H. Gunsel will succeed the late Bert Bell as commissioner. The only other man mentioned seriously was Marshall Leahy, a San Francisco attorney, who apparently eliminated himself by saying he would not leave San Francisco because of family ties.

OSU End Honored By Cleveland Club

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Touchdown Club honored Jim Houston, Ohio State end, Tuesday night as the outstanding college football player of 1959.

Houston came to the club's annual awards dinner wearing a cast on his broken left hand—a memento of the East-West all-star game at San Francisco Jan. 2. The No. 1 draft choice of the Cleveland Browns, Houston was presented the Joe Fogg Memorial Trophy.

Others honored at the dinner included Mike McCormack, chosen most valuable Cleveland Browns player; Jerry Schweickert, John Carroll University halfback and nine scholastic stars from this area.

On hand to see Houston get the award were three other members of his family from Massillon. They were his father, William, and two brothers—Lin Houston, a star at Ohio State in 1942, and Walt, who played at Purdue and now is in business here.

J-M Defeats Greenford 45-38

Bobcats Founder In Third Period

After starting out slow, Greenford showed some spirit in the second frame of its cage contest with invading Jackson-Milton on Tuesday night but wilted in the next period to lose 45-38.

The Blue Jays took a 15-8 first period margin, but the Bobcats rallied to come to within one point of the lead 22-21 by the intermission.

Jim Reeves and company exhibited their power in the next period, netting 15 points while holding the Bobcats to five, to make the count 37-26 at the three-quarter mark.

Reeves, who entered the game as the area's leading scorer with 243 points, almost equaled his season percentage of 24.3 points per game by netting 24.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By RUFUS LIDE

All rabbit and pheasant hunting in Columbiana County on State owned lands came to an end Saturday.

Approximately 15 hunters were out searching the fields and wooded sections on the Zepernick area hoping to get the last bunny or pheasant of the season. As far as I could learn, only one rabbit and one pheasant were taken. Most hunters only got the exercise.

The Loren Ruff farm is now owned by the state which increases this area another 118 acres in size. Much game management work will have to be done to bring this area into maximum production before it will fall into the classification of good hunting.

THERE ARE many additiosal pond or small lake sites that can be provided on this area. They will add water impoundments for the fish management section to begin a fish management program from the ground up without having to start a "clean-up" program of removing and killing off undesirable fish that were inherited on Zepernick Lake proper.

I do believe that Zepernick Lake will be a better fishing lake next season than in past years. There are many sizable bass in the lake, some of the red ear sunfish have reached 11" and you won't find a better panfish in any lake in the state of Ohio, private or state-owned.

SINCE THE eastern chain pickeral have been introduced into the lake they should make rapid growth asd be gig enough to hang on to the end of a fly line.

All I want to see is that they are doing well and survived. The future will take care of itself.

If they feed on bluegills they will have plenty to eat. There are plenty of bullhead catfish in the lake. More will be learned next spring when the test-netting begins.

At present writing there has been no ice fishing this season as we have had no winter weather to speak of. The kids that got ice skates for Christmas haven't had a chance to try them out.

ICE FISHING is bound to increase in popularity the same as the fly rod fishing in southern waters caught on in recent years. Originally, the flyrod was perfected for trout fishing and used as such until it was discovered most any fish could be taken on artificial flies.

Actually, flyrod fishing in Ohio was a new sport along about 1929. In those days it was primarily cane pole and bait casting along with trot line fishing in the larger streams.

Mink and muskrat trapping will be legal until March 15. The fur will be tops about March 1 and should bring top price.

Any trapper knows a March rat is far superior to a November rat. I still get complaints about other "rats," the ones that steal traps.

Chatelain Paces Leopards to 56-47 Win

Louisville Jolts Columbiana

The Louisville Leopards jolted an invading Columbiana squad 56-47 in Tri-County League activity on Tuesday night.

John Chatelain paced the Leopards with 21 tallies. Larry Buckler netted 16 for the Louisville squad.

Don Culp was the big gun for the losers, bringing back 18 markers. Gary Perkins hooped 10 for the Clippers.

The Leopards gained a substantial 17-14 lead in the first period. In the second stanza the gap was spread wider as the Louisville squad attained a 29-23 margin by its conclusion.

In the third period the Leopards continued to outplay their opponents, hiking the margin to 40-31.

Each squad netted 16 points in the final frame.

Columbiana hit on 21 of 63 shots from the field for 33 per cent. The Leopards didn't do quite so well in this category, singing 21 of 68 for 30 per cent. However in the free throw bracket, the Louisville squad's 54 per cent far surpassed the Clippers' 36 per cent.

The Leopards' Abdul was sidelined by the flu last night, but he was ably replaced by sophomore Miller.

This victory gives Louisville a 4-5 season record, 3-2 in loop play.

The Leopards will meet invading Minerva Friday night.

The Clippers now hold a 4-5 season standing. Their record in Tri-County League play is 2-3.

In the preliminary tilt, the Louisville Reserves edged Columbiana 65-57.

Texas A&M Drops Wake Forest

Auburn Spills Georgia Tech; Detroit Defeats Notre Dame

As long as Auburn and Coach Joel Eaves' shuffle offense keeps Georgia Tech's number, don't count Baron Adolph Rupp and his Kentucky Wildcats out of another Southeastern Conference basketball championship.

And don't overlook Auburn either.

Kentucky, well recovered from one of its poorest starts ever, needs help if it is to overhaul the Georgia Tech team that beat the Wildcats in their SEC opener at Lexington Jan. 2.

Coach Eaves' Tigers spilled sixth-ranked Tech 66-59 at Atlanta Tuesday night in one of those "extra games" SEC teams play. The result doesn't count in the SEC standings but it was Auburns fifth straight victory over Georgia Tech over a three-season span and it means there's a lot to come in an SEC race that now has Tech leading with a 4-0 mark to Kentucky's 41 and Auburn's 3-1. Had Tuesday night's game been an official league game, there would have been a three-way tie for the lead.

The official showdowns come a week apart with Kentucky out for revenge at Georgia Tech Jan. 25 and Tech at Auburn on Feb. 2.

Auburn's win featured a slim college program that also saw 20th-ranked Detroit (13-2) avenge an earlier loss to Notre Dame, 68-61, Texas A & M (12-1) grab a half-game lead in the Southwest Conference race by beating Rice 61-43, Wake Forest (11-4) boost its Atlantic Coast Conference record to 6-2 with an 83-64 rout of Clemson, and Virginia Tech (10-2) remain unbeaten (5-0) in the Southern Conference, 95-593 over VMI in overtime.

Auburn, its shuffle offense of quick passes off a modified weave working better than ever, had four players in double figures against Tech, which had won 13 of 14 starts. Dave Vaughn was the leader with 19 points as the Tigers won their 10th against 2 defeats.

Charlie North was back to help Dave DeBusschere and the sophomore pair did the scoring in the clutch as Detroit made it a 13-2 season and handed Notre Dame its fourth loss in 15 games. DeBusschere had 30 points, while North, who missed most of Detroit's 75-63 loss to Notre Dame at South Bend Jan. 9 because of a leg injury, had 11.

The Texas Aggies' top scorer, Carroll Broussard, was held to 8 points but Wayne Lawrence stepped in with 13, and the Stanley twins, Pat and Don, with 12 and 11 to make it easy against Rice. The Aggies are 12-1 and 10th-ranked nationally.

Sophomore Len Chappell had 26 points and led rebounders and husky Dave Budd added 19 in the Wake Forest victory while VPI got its heroics from 6-foot-6 Chris Smith, who scored 41 points and grabbed 27 rebounds, and Dean Blake, who got the game-winser on a lay-up just as the overtime buzzer sounded.

Chamberlain Paces Warriors to Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP) —Owner Eddie Gottlieb of the Philadelphia Warriors was right.

When he signed rookie Wilt Chamberlain for a figure reported in the vicinity of $30,000, he figured dishing out all that extra loot would pay off dividends because the 7-1 giant sensation would be a big gate draw in National Basketball Assn. play.

The Philadelphia-born Chamberlain proved his boss right.

Tuesday night at nearby Camden, N. J., Convention Hall the Warriors defeated New York 114-93 in the nights only NBA game as Chamberlain led all scorers with 30 points.

The 3,016 fans boosted the home attendance for the year to 159,464, setting a new Warriors' mark with 10 home games remaining.

Chamberlain is the big attraction and the Warriors are winning — a good combination for drawing fans.

The Stilt leads the NBA in scoring with 1,574 points, a 37 plus average.

Fight Results

Trenton, N. J. — George Chimenti, 159½, New York, outpointed Al Milone, 160, Brooklyn, 8.

Beaumont, Tex.—Garland (Rip) Randall, Tyler, Tex., outpointed Ray Portilla, Houston, 15. lightweights.

Akron, Ohio—Solomon Boysaw, Cleveland, knocked out Johnny Palmer, Columbus, Ohio, 2. lightweights.

Boardman Trounced by Salem Frosh

With lanky Nate Cope pulling down 16 rebounds and Dick Stark hooping 15 points, Salem's freshman cage squad rolled to its seventh victory in nine games on Tuesday by trouncing the invading Boardman yearlings 42-28.

Cope latched on to eight offensive and eight defensive rebounds in dominating the boards for Salem. He also flipped in five points. Stark's leading point total came on six goals and three fouls.

Shasby was high point man for Boardman with 11.

Coach Sam Pridon's outfit moved to a 11-3 first period lead. They stretched the margin to 27-11 by halftime and were on top 42-28 after three periods.

Neither team was too hot in the shooting department. Salem hit on 16 of 60 shots from the field for a 27 per cent accuracy mark. Boardman's freshmen hit on only nine of 47 attempts for a poor 19 per cent.

From the foul line Salem cashed in 10 for 24 and Boardman 10 for 26.

Salem's next game will be played in the Junior High gym at 4:15 on Thursday.

Minerva Smears Sebring 56-47

Trojans Handcuff Hardgrove, Ferris

Tri-County League leader Minerva extended its season record to 8-1 (5-0 in league play) Tuesday night by defeating third-running Sebring 56-47.

Sebring's record slipped to 3-5 on the year and 3-2 in loop play.

The Trojans looked sharp in the first period, amassing a 12-10 lead, but the Lions came back to hold a 30-26 bulge when the half ended.

Don Lawther's Lions, led by Walt Loudon and Ron Hardgrove with 20 and 12, respectively, put on a little more steam in the second half to go ahead 40-33 at the three-quarter mark. Sebring salvaged some self respect by holding Hardgrove and Criss Ferris, second and third in league scoring, far below their averages.

Sebring had three men in the double figures. The scoring leaders for Coach Alva Tetlow's Trojans were Fred Brunner with 17, Jerry Flickinger 15, and Tom Baxter, 10.

Minerva will play its next game Friday on the home boards of Louisville, the same night that Sebring will travel to Columbiana.

In the Reserve encounter Minerva was again victorious, defeating the Sebring JVs by the impressive score of 72-48.

Sebring—47

McAbier 1-0-2; Brunner 8-1-17; Dorr 1-1-3; Baxter 5-0-10; Flickinger 7-1-15.

Minerva—56

Hardgrove 5-2-12; Ferris 3-3-9; Miller 1-1-3; Wilson 4-0-8; Loudon 6-8-20; Hamilton 2-0-4.

Boysaw Knocks Out Palmer In Second

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—A belt emblematic of the Ohio lightweight championship was handed Solomon Boysaw after he knocked out Johnny Palmer of Columbus Tuesday night in the second round of their scheduled 10-rounder.

The Knights of Columbus show in the Akron Armory brought unbeaten Boysaw his 25th professional victory. A crowd of about 1,000 turned out.

Boysaw, of Cleveland, decked Palmer early in the second round, then near the end of the round caught him with a short right hook that put him down for the count.

Preliminary results included a quick victory by 209-pound Tony Hughes of Cleveland, who flattened Earl Mack of Lorain in one minute of the first round.

Guido Piccone, Canton middleweight, won a six-round decision over Larry Kelley of Cleveland. Kenneth Griggs of Youngstown won by a TKO over Detroit's Eddie Arnold in the third round.

Bowling Green Shades KSU; Oberlin Rolls

By The Associated Press

To paraphrase a old saying, the winners keep winning and the losers keep losing. That's the way it shaped up Tuesday night as Ohio colleges tangled in another round of basketball.

Oberlin put its Ohio Conference and season records at 4-1 and 8-1 by trouncing Denison 91-75, leaving the Big Red at 2-6, 2-9. The Yeomen's height and a combined 48-point output by Merrill Shanks (26) and Niel Good (22) told the tale.

Bowling Green nosed out Kent State 76-74 to put the Bee-Gees 3-2 in the Mid-American Conference and the Golden Flashes 0-3. Kent led most of the way but high-scoring Jimmy Darrow snapped in 20 points and Rex Leach went him one better with 21 to spark a triumph that the Falcons pulled out via seven free throws in the last two minutes.

Ashland moved up to 3-2 in the Mid-Ohio League by taking a 91-81 win over Bluffton, now 1-4 in the league.

Meshing 12 of 13 charity shots in the last four minutes, Otterbein pushed its Ohio Conference record to 2-6 by downing Kenyon 65-58. Kenyon stands 1-6 in the conference.

The night's high point man performed in a losing cause. Marietta's Carl Wolfe pumped in 35 but it wasn't enough as Morris Harvey (W. Va.) tripped the Pioneers 75-69. The Eagles are now 9-5 over-all while Marietta is 5-4.

Muskingum, with a well-balanced scoring attack, lifted its overall record to 7-3 by rolling, 74-57, over hapless Western Reserve (1-8).

Washington & Jefferson (Pa.) defeated Fenn, 57-42. The lone remaining winless Ohio team, Fenn has dropped nine games.

The Doctor Says

By HAROLD THOMAS HYMAN, M. D.

Some Zoonoses Are Serious

The household pet is pretty much standard equipment in most homes.

Considering the close contact between domestic animls and members of the family, there is amazingly little interchange of infectious disease in either direction.

Dr H. T. Hyman

Fido and tabby appear completely immune to the common afflictions of childhood, and only rarely is it possible to demonstrate an instance in which a household pet acted as a disease-carrier to its human companion.

A RECENT REPORT renewed my interest in zoonoses, the name given infectious diseases transmitted by animals to man.

An 11 - month old baby suffered a serious attack of infantile diarrhea as a direct result of contact with an apparently healthy pet dog.

In the words of Khurshid A. Mian, who made this interesting and important observation: "On questioning the parents (who did not harbor the organism), it was found that the baby used to play in the liing room on the carpet with the dog. The carpet was contaminated by the dog and the infection was carried by a hand to mouth.

HERE ARE some other zoonoses whose recognition by you may prove extremely valuable:

1. Rabies or hydrophobia, transmitted by the dog, cat or bat bite, or by saliva drooled in to an open wound.

2. Cat scratch fever in which fever, glandular enlargements and a body rash follow a few weeks after the appearance of a blister or pinple a the stie of a cat scratch.

3. Parrot fever (or ornithosis) in which the victim suffers a pneumonia - like illness after handling a sick parrot, canary, pigeon, turkey or almost any other bird.

4. Rabbit fever (or tularemia) that begins as a sore usually on the finger of a person who's skinned or handled the body of an infected bunny, beaver, muskrat, sheep, deer or pheasant. Later manifestations of tularemia include fever, glandular swellings and disturbances of lungs and intestines.

5. Toxoplasmosis, a particularly cruel disease only recently recognized. Caused by an organism that lives in the bodies of cats, dogs, pigeons, pigs and mares, toxoplasmosis is transmitted through the blood of the healthy pregnant woman to the unborn child.

The unfortunate baby comes in to the world with all sorts of deformities, mostly involving the brain and other nervous tissues bright spot in the toxoplasmosis picture, at the moment, is the assurance that future pregnancies will not be affected.

I hope you'll forgive me for giving you this rather terrifying report. It's written in the hope that it may help tp preserve the health of someone, somewhere.
